NO COMMUTATION.

LEXINGTON MURDERERS MUST HANG.

Lexington, June 25—A statement made by Gov. Beckham while here Tuesday in Asa Chinn, son of A. H. Chinn, who was murdered by Earl Whitney and Claude O'Brien, and for which crime they are both now under sentence of death, indicates there is small hope for executive clemency. Asa Chinn, remembering his battle in the hall with the youthful murderers, is showing no leniency toward them. He told the governor that he would oppose the commutation of sentence and asked the governor if it would be necessary for him to prepare a counter proposition. The governor replied: "No, I am thoroughly familiar with your side of the case. You need not go to that trouble."

Gov. Beckham stated that he would pass on the case as soon as he received the mandate of the court of appeals.

NOW THEY ARE OFF

Iowa, the First to Repudiate Bryanism and Free Silver.

Convention of Democrats Votes Down Indorsement of Late Platforms.

THE STATE TICKET NOMINATED

Des Moines, Ia., June 25—Governor—J. B. Sullivan.

Lieutenant governor—D. B. Butler. Judge of supreme court—John R. Caldwell.

Superintendent of public instruction—A. B. McCook.

Railroad commissioner—W. S. Porter.

The Democratic state convention by a vote of 463 9-10 to 334 1-10 yesterday afternoon refused to adopt a minority report signed by four members of the committee on resolutions, adding to the platform reported by the seven members constituting the majority of the committee, a plank reaffirming the Democratic national platform of 1900, and by a vote of 428 1/2 to 199 1/2 rejected another minority report adding to the plank demanding government control of railroads, with a provision that in case such control should not prove effective the national government should acquire ownership of railroads.

All the nominations were made by acclamation, the friends of Judge A. A. Van Wagenen of Stone City having concluded not to put his name for governor after it became apparent that the convention would not adopt a government ownership plank, which he has favored. J. H. Sullivan, nominee for governor, has been affiliated with the Bryan wing of the party, but he was acceptable to the gold Democrats.

When the convention met at 2 o'clock permanent organization was effected. E. M. Haron of Davenport presented the report of the committee on resolutions and made the only speech in its support. J. M. Parsons of Rock Rapids submitted the minority report in favor of government ownership, of which he was the only signer, and spoke in favor of its adoption. After the rejection of the report W. H. Rohm of Creston presented the reaffirmation plank. It was rejected, and the report of the majority committee was adopted without division.

The platform as it relates to state affairs calls for economical government, equitable taxation of corporate and private property, the purchase of supplies from the lowest bidder, the substitution of local option for the present malt law and state aid in the building of permanent buildings. Government by injunction is denounced and the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people is demanded.

TO CONSULT LAWYERS

Before Any Steps are Taken in 10:30 Closing Law.

This Is What City Officials Say—Doubt as to the Ordinance's Standing.

MAY BE NOW ENFORCEABLE

City officials are unable to give out any information relative to the decision of the court of appeals in the 10:30 closing law. They have received no copy of the opinion, and when asked about it declare that all they know is what they see in the newspapers, and they certainly will not try to enforce a law on that.

Attorneys for the civic league say that the ordinance may be enforced as it now stands as to the provisions declared legal, without amendment. If this proves correct the ordinance will probably have to be enforced as soon as the mandate from the court of appeals arrives, which will probably be within the next thirty days.

Should it become necessary to amend the ordinance, however, the law will probably never materialize, as the legislative boards have changed sufficiently since the ordinance was passed, it is claimed, to prevent the passage of such a law now. It is also hinted that an effort may be made to repeal the ordinance should it prove effective.

It is quite certain, however, that the ordinance is not being enforced now, and will not be until the officers receive official notice of the court of appeals decision, and have consulted their attorneys. Chief of Police Crow said this morning in response to a question what was going to be done about it that he was not going to do anything until he consulted his attorney about it.

WED SECRETLY.

COUPLE MARRIED TUESDAY ANNOUNCE WEDDING TODAY.

Miss Mattie Morgan and Mr. Robert L. Kenney of this city were secretly married at Metropolis Tuesday night. The wedding was not announced until today. The couple returned to this city and the young man went to his home and the young lady to hers. Today they announced their marriage and have gone to housekeeping at Eleventh and Harrison streets.

The bride is the pretty daughter of ex-Policeman Willis Morgan and is a popular young lady. The groom is a fireman on the I. O. road and has many friends.

Mrs. L. W. Pratt returned to Madisonville, Ky., today after a visit to her sister Mrs. W. A. Davis.

GAGE IS MANAGER

New Player Chosen Last Night by Association.

He Succeeds Manager Sam Jackson, Who Becomes Vice President.

TEAM WORK WHAT IS NEEDED

The directors of the Paducah Baseball association met last night and elected Gage, the new infielder from Michigan, captain and manager of the team. Gage will play with the team and will also manage all the affairs heretofore left with Mr. Sam Jackson, and will probably make an excellent man for the place, having had much experience in this line. Manager Jackson is now vice president.

Gage has been practicing the home boys at batting and it is said that Paducah has more sure and heavy hitters than any team in the league. Wallace, the left fielder for Cairo, has made a reputation as a hitter, having lined out three two-baggers and several singles in two games.

This morning the home team practiced batting again and will soon be well to the front in hitting.

The change in management is not likely to prove any too pleasing to the Paducah players, it seems. They claim, some of them, that the association should have waited to find out whether Gage made good before putting him in as captain and manager. Some of them say that the captain should always be chosen by a vote of the players, and not by the association.

Manager Gage, however, seems to realize that Paducah's weakness is in lack of team work, and will see that they improve in it.

TWO ACCIDENTS.

SECTION FOREMAN ON CAIRO DIVISION HURT.

C. W. Dearmon, section foreman on the Cairo and Paducah division of the I. C. road, was painfully injured while returning from work late Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Dearmon was coming in the city on a hand car. He fell off and the car ran over him, cutting his left knee and the calf of his left leg. He was carried to the I. C. hospital where his injuries were dressed. He will be confined to the hospital for several weeks.

Dr. Lillard Sanders was confined to his home yesterday by a bee sting on the nose. He is able to be out today but his nose and face are very much swollen.

Miss Kate Herndon will arrive from Clarksville, Tenn., in a few days to visit her father, Captain Thomas Herndon. She will sail August 1 for Europe with a party from Nashville, Tenn., for a two years' stay abroad for travel and study.

PERRY IS ACQUITTED

The Catcher For Paducah Tried Before Justice Young

The Prosecutors Could Not Prove That He Played Ball Last Sunday Afternoon.

DAMAGE SUITS TO BE BROUGHT

The anti-baseball crowd received a setback this morning in Justice Jesse Young's court in the trial of baseball players for alleged violation of the Sabbath by doing unnecessary work.

On account of the unusual number of witnesses and defendants Justice Young held court in the council chamber at the city hall, and there were many spectators present. Attorneys Flournoy and Harrison appeared for the defense and Attorneys Bagby and Martin for the prosecution.

Ed Perry, catcher for the Paducah club, was the first defendant arraigned. It was decided to try them separately, and the jury selected to hear the evidence against Perry was composed of Messrs. E. Farley, Young Taylor, Charles Ordeal, John Davis, Charles Warren and W. B. McPherson.

The prosecution had half a dozen or more witnesses, but they could not prove to the satisfaction of the jury that Perry played ball Sunday. Some of them who were present at the game could not swear that he played ball, one reason being that he looks different in street clothes than on the ball field, and as defendant they could not identify him, and another being that they could not swear positively what day it was they saw him play. One of the ball players could not swear positively that Perry played ball because he didn't remember Sunday, and in fact didn't know for sure what today is.

There was considerable merriment at times over the falling memories of some of the witnesses. The line of defense was that the defendants were not guilty, and further that if they were they did no unnecessary work, but instead engaged in a pastime or sport.

Speeches were made on both sides, very able appeals, too, and the jury returned a verdict in the Perry case at 11:30 that he was not guilty as charged.

The case against Pitcher Freeman was next taken up, but on account of the absence of witnesses all the cases were then continued until next Tuesday morning.

Attorneys Harrison and Flournoy are now preparing damage suits against all the alleged instigators of the baseball prosecutions. It was announced authoritatively today that suits will at once be brought against a number of well known men, among them probably Messrs. B. H. Scott, J. R. Puryear, J. D. Smith, Walters, Kirkpatrick and others, for $1,000 or more each damages for alleged malicious prosecution. Members of the baseball association claim that these prosecutions are brought largely to harass them, and not simply, as claimed, that "the law be enforced." That there is not the same amount of activity displayed by these gentlemen towards having other laws enforced; that they have singled out the baseball players through spite and malice, to put them to unnecessary expense and trouble, and that they will be required to employ counsel and fight these damage suits in the courts in return for the annoyance and opposition they have displayed towards the baseball players.

REPAIRS MADE

MARINE WAYS WILL BE RUNNING AGAIN SOON.

The Marine ways will probably be in running order again by night, the shaft, which was broken two days ago, having been repaired. This shaft is the main one and was broken in two while the machines were pulling up a big boat. The work of repairing has been rapidly pushed and little time was lost.

BOTH WANTED CASE

Attorneys Claim Jurisdiction for Their Courts.

Judge Cross Holds the Pool Room Men to Circuit Court on Bond.

OTHER CASES IN POLICE COURT

E. M. Woodall, the man arrested yesterday for running a pool room over George Detzel's on North Fourth street, and who was released on a $200 bond, failed to show up today and it is supposed he skipped out.

When the case against him was called by Acting Judge Cross in police court this morning a heated discussion arose between City Prosecutor Attorney J. M. Gilbert and County Attorney Eugene Graves as to what disposition to make of the case.

When Woodall was arrested yesterday and gave a cash bond of $200 he said he wanted to waive examination, but as the court was not in session it could not make an order holding him to circuit court at that time, and the bond was taken and the case was called today, the intention being to enter an order waiving examination, and holding him to answer.

City Prosecutor Gilbert objected to the order being made. He said it was a city case and he wanted the city to take jurisdiction in it. The second class charter, he declared, gave cities of this class jurisdiction in all cases except felony, which includes all misdemeanors, one of which is operating a pool room, and he insisted that Judge Cross hear the evidence and if the defendant were adjudged guilty to fine him, so the city would get the benefit of it.

County Attorney Graves, on the other hand, said the city under the constitution has jurisdiction similar to that of magistrates, which is in all cases in which the extreme penalty is not more than $100 and fifty days in jail. He said the city could not prevent a case's being held for grand jury action when there is no specific ordinance against the offense charged, and that there is no ordinance in this case, it being an offense covered by statute and the prosecution being in the name of the commonwealth.

Prosecutor Gilbert wanted the court to pass on the constitutionality of the charter provision giving the city jurisdiction in all misdemeanor cases, saying if the provision is constitutional the city has jurisdiction, but the court declined to do it and sustained Attorney Graves, entering an order holding the defendant to answer in the sum of $200. Attorney Gilbert had his objections entered and will take the case to the court of appeals on transcript.

The principal reason there is a controversy in such cases, it seems, is that a portion of the fines and forfeitures in the police court go to Attorney Gilbert, and in the circuit court to Attorney Graves. The defendant has evidently decided to forfeit the bond, in which the $200 will go largely to attorneys.

Other cases considered were: Annie and Will Cannon, breach of the peace, continued until June 29.

John Scott, the negro arrested in Decaturville, Tenn., for cutting Wm. Knight, continued until tomorrow.

John Miller, colored, $1 and costs for plain drunk.

VINCENNES LOSES AGAIN

Vincennes, June 25.—The home club lost again on errors. Score:

Vin 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 5—7 12 6

Cairo yesterday took another game from Paducah by a score of 9 to 7 in a contest not nearly so exciting or satisfactory as the one the day before. Paducah's defeat was due solely to costly errors and not to inability to hit the Cairo pitcher. They battled him freely until the seventh inning, when Manager Eisenberger of Cairo put in Holycross, a fierce-looking gent who held the Indians down with his swift mysterious and kept them from scoring again.

Girard pitched a good game and had good support except in a few instances, when the visitors caught the Indians up in the air and in the fifth inning made six scores. Edmunds made several bad errors, once retiring the side when there was no excuse for it, by leaving his base on a fly ball with only one out.

The hitting was something usual, only five strike-outs being credited to both sides, two for Girard and three to Cairo.

Game by innings:

FIRST INNING.
Cairo—Witt grounded a single to center field and Powers sacrificed. Schwab grounded out to third base to first base and Hughes' strike-out retired the side.

Paducah—LeCompte out from short to first. Edmunds hit by pitched ball. Connors grounded past short for a base and Fitzgerald hit a pitcher, who forced Edmunds out at third. A wild throw to first enabled Connors to score. Girard hit to center field, who

POOR OLD PADUCAH!

The "Hens" put it all over Vincennes again yesterday, making four straight, while the Henderson Gleaner. Poor old Vincennes, you and Paducah certainly have our heartfelt sympathy. Paducah's position is especially lamentable, as she began the season with a flare of trumpets which was intended to strike terror into the hearts of the weaker (?) teams of the league. "What a fall it was, my countrymen." Still young, but prematurely decrepit, the "Pad-dys" are losing game after game, and seek to soothe their injured feelings by sending fake telegrams to the Louisville papers to the effect that "Henderson may be dropped," etc.; "Henderson is trying to run the league," and have even gone so far as to figure the games won from New Decatur, a team which is only playing exhibition games, in their percentage column. How deeply the old adage, "Pride goeth before a fall," must have been engrossed upon the minds of the "Pad-dys," that foxy aggregation of would-be ball players who win games by trickery when they are unable to do so by fair means. Sweeney's trick of stealing a run by throwing the ball away in a game three several weeks ago may have been acceptable to the Paducah fans and press, but it would never be stood for by an impartial public, even if there is no rule which covers the play. The mistake that King, our first baseman, made was in not resorting to Marquis of Queensberry rules and putting Sweeney OUT by them. "Every dog has his day," and this only too evident that Paducah's is fast approaching the hour of sunset.

There will be no more ball games in Hopkinsville this week. Yesterday afternoon Manager Bassett received a telephone message from Henderson stating that the team would arrive here last night or this morning, but late last night they called him again and said that the Vincennes management had refused to pay their share of the gate receipts unless the series was played out and they would be compelled to play the three games. They will fill their engagement with Hopkinsville Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Henderson, and it is to be hoped they will stay awake hereafter and keep up with the schedule. * * * Henderson's sleep-walking act in going to Vincennes when they were scheduled to play here will probably revive the reports of the K. I. T. league breaking up, as there has already been some talk of Henderson

POSTUM COFFEE
AN HONEST DOCTOR

SPEAKS OF COFFEE DRINKING.

ABOUT coffee drinking, a prominent Chicago physician says: "I have the best of reasons for naming coffee as among the most dangerous of slow poisons. My own personal experience outside of the general experience gained by my practice has taught me the truth.

"At about 16 I became a member of a young people's society whose pledge barred the use of all intoxicants, tobacco, tea and coffee until the age of 21. I kept my pledge and early temperate habits were formed. Up to about my 30th year I was an athlete; no one had better health or spirits.

"A short time after passing thirty I began the use of coffee at breakfast with an occasional cup at evening parties. The first symptoms of ill health I remember came soon and later sore mouth and stomach trouble followed. Finally well marked dyspepsia supervened. My bowels sympathized, of course, also my nervous system became impaired. Dizziness attacked me and tremulous hands rendered writing exceedingly difficult. My diet had to be restricted. Experienced medical advisers forbade all fruits.

"Several attacks of gastritis troubled me and bowel complaint became quite frequent.

"I am now past 60 years of age. About 18 months ago I saw a shrewdly written statement of Postum Cereal Coffee. I gave it careful reading and thought, and as an experiment substituted Postum for Java and Mocha. For the first three days of the change I felt keenly the loss of the stimulant, after that the nutrient quality of the Postum more than compensated the deprivation, and an astonishing change came in recurring hunger three times daily; I could scarcely wait for meals, a sensation I had not had for more than thirty years.

"Now my health is excellent. I eat fruits of all kinds and foods as my appetite demands. I am regaining my nervous tone and my strength is increasing daily. Except my change from coffee to Postum I have made no change in my mode of living.

"Do you wonder that I name coffee as the most dangerous of slow poisons?

"I believe there are thousands suffering as I suffered." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

siding with Vincennes and withdrawing from the circuit. This impression must have been made at Cairo, as a message was received by this office this morning from the Bulletin asking if Henderson had withdrawn. The Henderson management, however, say that they only made a mistake in the schedule and have no idea of withdrawing.—Hopkinsville New Era.

JUST A LITTLE DOPE.

Events of the past few days in baseball playing indicate that Paducah does not need batters so well as she does men who will not get added at critical periods of the game and while up in the air, as the race horse man says, let the visitors get a lead that cannot be overcome. Paducah needs team work. The only chance she has to win with a fast team is by putting in a pitcher the other fellows can't bat. If the latter do any hitting the game is usually lost on him fielding.

Manager Eisenberger of Cairo says that the talk of Cairo's "throwing the game" is rot. "We play ball all the time," said the manager, "and we play to win. We never lay down. If anyone doubts it he can get all the wagers he wants from me. I always bet on Cairo." Manager Eisenberger has great faith in his club, and made a number of bets on Cairo yesterday when the score was 6 to 1 against him.

The principal reason we can't beat Cairo is that they have a better all-around ball team. This may be less majestic, but it's true. Paducah had a chance to get their crack first baseman, Dummy Hughes, and also their star left fielder, earlier in the season, but the management didn't know enough to do it. Other clubs have good players, while Paducah is still experimenting.

Paducah needs two good fielders. Clifford catches a great deal, but should be set on the bench while not behind the bat. All teams carry one or more catchers. Cairo carries Ratledge and Ott, the latter having not played at all in this series. Paducah has been weak in the outfield and at first, but the management promises to remedy this at once.

Baseball players should remember that newspapers are supposed to detail games as it is seen, and if they play bad ball the public has a right to know it. A player should not get mad if it is said he lost the game. It is largely a matter of opinion, and it's all in the game anyhow, you know.

The manager of the Cairo club is noted as saying that if Freeman had the Cairo club behind him there couldn't any club in the league beat him.

Girard is a hard worker and plays everywhere at once. He has a head on him, too.

The guarantee has been changed from $25 to $30 for each game played. Manager Eisenberger of the Cairo team returned today to Cairo.

WHITE STAR COFFEE

When buying coffee, remember that a tin can will preserve in a correct way the much prized qualities of the choicest varieties—that it is the purity and flavor which it is important for you to have—that a coffee marketed upon its reputation is more likely to represent a legitimate value than one that is sold in some other way.

Every cup brewed from any of the White Star varieties has that color—that odor—and

DAILY THOUGHT

I like that wit whose fittest symbol is the playful piach which a father gives to the cheek of his roguish boy or the pretended bite which a mother prints upon the tempting, snowy shoulder of her babe,—like Marvel.

BLAMES THE AUTHORITIES.

The widespread attention Kentucky has attracted by her feud troubles in Breathitt has provoked many expressions from the big journals. The New York Times seems to think the governor of the state is responsible, and declares:

"All of this is so disgraceful to the state of Kentucky that the governor of that commonwealth, patting aside all other business and excuses, should give his entire and stern attention to the state of affairs in Breathitt county until the reign of law and respect for law are there restored. The Kentucky 'feud' is a thing so detestable that a governor who should with railing gait proceed to put an end to civil disturbance by annihilating all parties to the controversy would find a rough general justification for his procedure in the approval of right-thinking men everywhere. This, however, is not the way to proceed. The governor of Kentucky has under his authority sufficient military force to teach the obstreperous Judge Hargis his place in this republic and to restrain the lawlessness of Hargis' men. With the aid of the legislature he has the power to cause Judge Redwine to step down from the bench which he appears to be unworthy to occupy, and to take other measures necessary for the ends of justice. Capt. Ewea's family is leaving Breathitt county—in secrecy, because of fear of assassination. This is not a situation which ought to exist anywhere in the United States, and cannot exist without exposing those responsible for it to reproach and public odium. The governor of Kentucky appears to be the person responsible for the way things are permitted to go on in Breathitt county."

Unusual interest is being taken in many parts of the country in prettier streets and yards. Active campaigns are being waged against loose and flying paper, fruit skins and dust, and much good is being accomplished by a public effort to eliminate filthy habits. The Louisville Herald thinks, in order to obviate the evil, "there should be called into action a civil pride forbidding citizens from carelessly throwing paper and fruit skins into the street at any time or under any circumstances. For the reception of refuse, barrels or movable boxes should be used at certain points, and when taken away every night replaced by others. Fines should be imposed on anyone who should, after due notification, deposit refuse on the public highways. There are cities whose streets are kept scrupulously clean and at all times appear inviting and beautiful."

The cowardly assassination of Senator Goebel does not, as some of the Democratic papers seem to think, condone or justify the lawlessness and crime in Breathitt county, or anywhere else. Those who are suggesting that the ringleaders in the Breathitt county outrages and the assassins of Senator Goebel be hanged, the same tree should remember that the assassins or assassins of Senator Goebel are not known, while the ringleaders in the feud district are. If the authorities desire to punish the latter they can do so without waiting for the discovery of the former, and if their courts were as active in prosecuting the Breathitt county murderers as they have been in prosecuting innocent men in the Goebel case the state would not now be put to such great expense in maintaining military protection for the people in the feud country.

No wonder there is murder in Breathitt county. Here's what yesterday's dispatch says: "Aastin Fields of Hazard, under an indictment for the murder two years ago of Felix Bullock, came here last night and going to the home of J. C. Edwards, the principal witness against him, fired two shots through the window into the room where Edwards and his family were eating their supper. Fields was arrested and tried before Judge Ordwell this morning and fined $20 and costs." If a man in this part of the state should undertake such a cowardly, heastly trick and be caught he would go to the penitentiary so quickly it would make his head swim. Yet in Breathitt he was fined only $20 and probably taxed that much because he made a bad shot.

Owing to the activity of Mr. Folk of St. Louis the probability is the insurance companies, baking powder trust, street car companies and other big concerns will be able to show a healthy increase in earnings during the next few years. They have been in the habit of getting anything they wanted—and so were the hoodling lawmakers. The insurance companies alone have paid out $300,000 in twelve years to defeat inimical legislation in Missouri.

No better indication of the confidence of the republicans of Kentucky in winning the coming state election could be found than in the fact that so many good men are coming out for the various nominations. If Republicans felt that they could not win so many of them would not waste their time making hopeless races. But they know they are to win, and good men are coming out for all offices.

Some of the Democratic papers seek to make political capital out of the postoffice cases. Rascals frequently get into office, both by popular suffrage and appointment, but the few who are inadvertently let in are nothing compared to the vast number who have been kept out by the people during the past thirty or forty years, and up to the present time.

We trust our Cairo exchanges will gladly refrain from sending us papers until the unpleasantness is over.

Where the Toddy Went. — Here is a characteristic story of Captain, afterwards General George Pickett, famous at Gettysburg. It was at the time of the disputes between England and America as to the boundary line between British Columbia and Washington territory. Capt. Pickett had just mixed himself a toddy, when his attention was arrested suddenly by a courier, whose message caused him to mount immediately and ride off, leaving the drink behind him. It was gone some hours. When he returned the empty glass was on his camp table, whereupon ensued the following colloquy: "Orderly." "Yes, sir." "Where's that toddy?" "Threw it away, sir; thought you had done with it, sir." "Where did you throw it; down your throat?" "Yes, sir; down my throat, sir," accompanied by a regulation salute. —Pittsburg Gazette.

Mr. J. W. Woodard of 1403 Barnett street, says: "At different times for fifteen years I had attacks of kidney trouble and used more or less medicine without getting permanent relief. A few days' treatment of Doan's Kidney Pills obtained at DaBols & Co's drug store, proved to me that I had at last got hold of a remedy which went to the root of the trouble. SUBDUING A BRONCHO

WATER CURE PROVED EFFECTIVE IN THIS CASE.

Major Pershing Easily Breaks In Bucking Stead That Had Been Given Up as Hopeless—American Cavalry Officers Can Ride.

"Major John J. Pershing won fame when he captured the insurgent stronghold in Mindanao after a desperate engagement," said an army officer the other day. "Pershing is a remarkable fellow and a splendid officer, but I doubt if the best story on him has reached this country. He is a former cavalry officer and could give pointers to a Comanche on how to ride a horse."

"The South African war nearly exhausted our stock of cavalry horses, and the British agents were paying such big prices that we had to take what we could get in the Philippines. Consequently we received the scum of the Wyoming and Montana ranges, and a worse set of bronchos you never saw."

"One day Pershing's command got a drove of the beasts that had come over on a transport, and it was discovered that they had to be broken before the stock of mounts could be replenished. Our men were good riders, who had been put through the monkey drill until they could ride like Comanches, but there was one flea-bitten roan that no one could 'stick' to for more than two minutes. He was pronounced an 'outlaw' or broncho that couldn't be ridden. The sergeant told Major Pershing that the animal was of no value and ought to be shot."

"I don't believe you know how to ride him," said Pershing.

"Our best men have tried him for three days and he has thrown them all," said the sergeant. "He just dumped me."

"I think I'll try him," said Pershing, as he walked out to where the roan stood with saddle and bridle still on, waiting for his next victim.

"Then the men gathered to see the fun. But the minute Pershing vaulted into the saddle the men began to feel sorry for that broncho. He was a big beast. He jumped into the air and came down, stiff-legged, in regular broncho fashion. But Pershing kept his head up and gave him the spur until you could hear the brute squeal between his teeth. Then the officer headed his mount for the river. When the horse struck the water up to his knees he didn't jump so much. He couldn't. He tried to lie down, but Pershing was off like a flash, and was in the saddle again as soon as the horse got on his feet. This went on for fifteen minutes, and then the roan gave up. Pershing rode him back as meek as a street car horse."

"I don't think you will have any more trouble with that horse," he said as he went into the stable to get some dry clothes. "And they didn't. The water cure was effective."

Claims to Have the Biggest Mills.

So far as statistics in regard to cotton manufacturing plants have been published, Manchester people take the satisfaction of knowing that the largest cotton mill building in the world is that recently built by the Manchester Print Works and covering with its two wings a remarkable area. Statistics, too, show that this big No. 11 mill of the Ameskeag Manufacturing Company, on the west side of the river, is the largest mill exclusively devoted to cotton cloth manufacturing in the world. That is, no portion of the No. 11 mill is used for storehouse purposes; it is entirely devoted to the making of cloth.—Manchester (N. H.) Union.

AS TO APPEARANCES

"Old Gorgoa Graham" Advises His Son About Clothes

From "Letters From a Self-Made Merchant to His Son," by George Horace Lorimer

Dear Pierrepoint—That order for a carload of Spotless Snow Leaf from old Shorler is the kind of back talk I like. We can stand a little more of the same sort of sassing. I have told the cashier that you will draw thirty a week after this, and I want you to have a nice suit of clothes made and send the bill to the old man. Get something that won't keep people guessing whether you follow the horses or do luck and wing daniel for a living. Your taste in clothes seems to be lasting longer than the rest of your college education. You looked like a young widow who had raised the second crop of daisies over the deceased when you were in here last week.

Of course clothes don't make the man, but they make all of him except his hands and face during business hours, and that's a pretty considerable area of the human animal. A dirty shirt may bid a pure heart, but it seldom covers a clean skin. If you look as if you had slept in your clothes, most people will jump to the conclusion that you have, and you will never get to know them well enough to explain that your head is so full of noble thoughts that you haven't time to bother with the dandruff on your shoulders. And if you wear blue and white striped pants and a red necktie you will find it difficult to get close enough to a deacon to be invited to say grace at his table, even if you never play for anything except coffee or beans.

Appearances are deceitful, I know, but so long as they are there's nothing like having them deceive for us instead of against us. I've seen a 10-cent shave and a 6-cent shine get a thousand-dollar job and a cigarette and a pint of champagne knock the bottom out of a million-dollar pork corner. Four or five years ago little Jim Jackson had the bears in the provision pit hibernating and living on their own fat till one morning, the day after he had run the price of mess pork up to $20 and nailed it there, some one saw him drinking a small bottle just before he went on 'change and told it around among the brokers on the floor. The bears thought Jim must have had bad news to be bracing up at that time in the morning. So they perked up and everlastingly sold the mess pork market down through the bottom of the pit to solid earth. There wasn't even a grease spot left of that corner when they got through. As it happened, Jim hadn't had any bad news. He just took the drink because he felt pretty good and things were coming his way.

Baby Carriages for Indians. This is the season of the year when the Indian chiefs come in from the reservations to see the Great Father. There are a score of them in the city now. A group of half a dozen standing on the curb watching an automobile recalled to some Texans who were passing the story Colonel Bill Sterrett used to tell about the man who went into the Indian territory to sell baby carriages.

Everybody said he was crazy. It was admitted that there was a fine crop of babies in the territory, but no one could see what the squaws, who were used to packing their offspring on their backs, could do with baby carriages.

Still, orders began to come back, first for dozens and then for car loads and finally Sterrett went up to investigate. He went into one of the Indian villages.

"And I'll be dashed," said Colonel Hill, "if I didn't see a dozen big fat Indians sitting in baby carriages, all scrouged up, while the squaws were pushing them around. The baby carriage man had made the Indians believe that baby carriages were the right kind of pleasure rigs for the noble red man."—New York World.

True and Unfailing Health for Suffering Women.

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND

The World's Medicine for the Cure of Female Troubles.

A large share of the evils and sufferings which women are liable to, result from special female weaknesses and diseases. From the girl entering womanhood to the woman who arrives at the Grand Climacteric or "Change of Life," there are troubles, ailments and irregularities—too often borne in silence—which undermine the health and result in disease. Where such conditions exist, however, the poor sufferers to fully realize their perils and dangers!

It is well known that ordinary medical treatment too often fails to balk at the delicate nervous system of women, and give necessary tone and strength to the important female organs. The experience of years, medical testimony and letters from tens of thousands of cured women, point to Paine's Celery Compound as woman's friend and life giver. Mrs. W. I. West, Fremont, Neb., writes thus: "I used Paine's Celery Compound for female troubles and general debility. I have taken a great deal of medicine during the last ten years, but none of them of such value as Paine's Celery Compound. I believe it is the best medicine for the nerves and the troubles from which women suffer so much, that I ever used."

BRAIN BUILDING.

HOW TO FEED NERVOUS CASES

Hysteria sometimes leads to insan-lity and should be treated through feeding the brain and nerves upon scientifically selected food that restores the lost delicate gray matter.
Proof of the power of the brain food
Grape Nuts is remarkably strong.

"About eight years ago when working very hard as a court stenographer
I collapsed physically and then nervously and was taken to the state hospital for the insane at Lincoln, Neb., a raving maniac.

"They had to keep me in a strait jacket and I was kept in the worst ward for three months. I was finally discharged in the following May but did no brain work for years until last fall when I was persuaded to take the testimony in two cases. One of these was a murder case and the strain upon my nervous system was so great that I would have broken down again except for the strength I had built up by the use of Grape Nuts. When I began to feel the pressure of the work on my brain and nerves I simply increased the amount of Grape Nuts and used the food more regularly.

"I now feel like my old self again and am healthy and happy. I am sure that if I had known of Grape Nuts
when I had my trouble eight years ago I would never have collapsed and this dark spot in my life would never have happened. Grape Nuts' power as a brain food is simply wonderful and I do not believe any stomach is so weak that it cannot digest this wonderful food. I feel a delicious about having my name appear in public but if you think it would help any poor sufferer you can use it." Name given

CAYCE MAN MISSING.

Fulton, Ky., June 25—Andrew Fletcher, aged 55, one of the most prominent citizens of Fulton county, residing at Cayce, nine miles northwest, disappeared suddenly last night and up to the present no tidings of his whereabouts can be had. Fletcher had been confined to his bedroom for the past three months with illness and his disappearance has caused a great sensation. He left a note saying if he did not return not to worry, as he would be all right. It is feared that his mind suddenly became deranged and that he has gone to some secluded spot and killed himself. Search parties are scouring the surrounding country.

AN UNIQUE WEDDING

Paducah Young Lady Married
in a Carriage Last Evening.

Justice Liggett Performs Ceremony
While Couple Are Driven to a Boat.

There were some unusual features in the marriage of Miss Mattie Overstreet, of this city, and Mr. Wilbur Armatage, of Kankakee, Ill., at Metropolis, Wednesday evening. The bride left here at 6:15 over the Illinois Central for Metropolis and was joined there by the groom, who had arrived several hours earlier. They drove from the Illinois Central station to the clerk's office and procured the license. They then went to the residence of Justice Thomas Liggett, to have the ceremony performed.

Just as they arrived at Mr. Liggett's residence, however, they heard the setamer Dick Fowler, on which they wanted to return to Paducah, whistle.

The couple confided their plans to the 'squire, who with a desire to be accommodating, got into the carriage, and while the horses were whipped up to their utmost speed, performed the marriage ceremony. Mrs. Downs of this city, a sister of the bride, was in the carriage and witnessed the wedding. The couple got to the wharf in time to take the boat.

The Paducah friends of the couple knew nothing of the marriage until it was announced when the bridal party arrived here on the Fowler last night.
The bride is an attractive young lady.
Mr. Armatage is in the grocery business in Kankakee. Mr. and Mrs.
Armatage will leave for that place tomorrow to reside.

HORSE KILLED BY BEES.

Mr. J. S. Shepherd's bees were thrown into a high state of rage last Friday afternoon by a horse knocking over one of the hives. They swarmed out and attacked the bewildered beast with great ferocity, stinging him to death. Mr. Shepherd was badly stung and other members of the family were attacked.—Clinton Gazette.

NOVEL DUEL.

DR. DOWIE CHALLENGED TO A PRAYER CONTEST.

Chicago, June 25.—Eljah Dowie
has been challenged to a praying duel to the death. The challenger is Mirza Ghulam Ahmad of Qadian, Punjab, India.

Elijah has not accepted the challenge, but neither has he declined it.
The Review of Religions, published in Gurdaspur, India, through which the challenge is issued, says Mirza is
"the promised Messiah," sent "for the reformation of the world exactly at the time fixed by calculations based on biblical prophecies as the time of the advent of the Messiah," and he has a following of over 100,000 members, rapidly growing.

The teachings of this Messiah is that Christ was a mere mortal, a good man, without divinity. Mirza Ghulam Ahmad further declares: "The proof that Dr. Dowie furnishes in support of his extravagant claims in the very height of absurdity. He claims to have healed hundreds of sick men.
But why did his healing power fail in the case of his own beloved daughter,
where it should have been exercised in the highest degree?"

HOT WEATHER WEAKNESS.

If you feel fagged out, listless and lacking in energy, you are perhaps suffering from the debilitating effects of summer weather. These symptoms indicate that a tonic is needed that will create a healthy appetite, make digestion perfect, regulate the bowels and impart natural activity to the liver. This, Herbine will do, it is a tonic, laxative and restorative. H.
J. Freear, proprietor, Grand View Hotel, Cheney, Kan., writes: "I have used Herbine for the last 12 years, and nothing on earth can beat
it. It was recommended to me by Dr.
Newton, Newton, Kan." 50c at Du-Bois, Kolb & Co.

WAS RE-ARRESTED.

JOHN REDMOND CHARGED WITH SANDBAGGING WILL THURMAN.

Relative here have been notified that John Redmond has been re-arrested at Alton, Ill., for sandbagging and killing Will Thurman, whose death occurred at Alton a few days ago.
Redmond was suspected and arrested soon after young Thurman was found, but released on account of insufficient evidence. Since the reward officers have been stimulated to work harder on the case, with a result that more evidence has been found, the suspect has been indicted and rearrested.

Mr. M. Thurman, proprietor of the St. Nicholas hotel, brother of the mordered man, Mr. W. R. Parker and Mr.
W. R. Jones will go to Alton to attend as soon as they are notified of the date of the trial.

A SPENDID REMEDY.

Neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yield to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It penetrates to the nerves and bone, and being absorbed in the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures. Mr.
D. F. Moore, agent Illinois Central railway, Milan, Tenn., states: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism, lumbago, etc., in my family. It is a splendid remedy. We could not do without it." 25c, 50c

STREET COMMITTEE.

GRANITOID SIDEWALKS ADOPTED
BY MEMBERS LAST NIGHT.

The sidewalk question was discussed last night at a meeting of the street committee of the general council, and it was decided to order the pavements from Eighth to 13th on Harrison and Clay streets, and from Third to 13th on Ohio and Tennessee streets, constructed of granitoid instead of brick.
The committee previously decided on brick, but the cost for granitoid will be only 30 cents a foot more, and will be much more substantial and attractive. There will be the first pavements of this material ordered in the residence portion of the city.

THE GREATEST KNOWN

Fine Veins of Lead and Spar
Found in Kentucky.

The Field the Richest in America—
Being Rapidly Developed

RAILROADS ENTER TERRITORY

A Harriburg, Ill., special to St.
Louis says: "In a comparatively small area, comprising the counties of Pope, Hardin and Saline, in the state of Illinois, and Crittenden, Livingston and Caldwell, across the Ohio river in Kentucky, there exists the greatest fissure veins of lead and zinc ores and floor spar known in America.

The absence of all railroad facilities in the past has simply kept dormant these great money producers.
The steel rails and the steam engines of the Illinois Central have, during the past twelve months, penetrated into this section of Illinois, known so many years as "Egypt." Mining plants, steam hoists, steam pumps and great reduction works are dotting the hills of Harlin county, the only county now in Southern Illinois without a railroad.

Great masses of pure galena are found at the surface of the ground and these masses of pure ore weigh from fifty to 500 pounds.

In early days the value of the ore of zinc, both sulphide and the carbon-ates, was unknown to American miners. Great dumps, containing thousands of tons of zinc ore, which was considered then so much waste, can now be utilized. At this day and ago this seems a strange statement, but when it is remembered that the shining, metallic-looking particles of zinc sulphide could not be melted, as was the case with every other metal found, but would evaporate under strong heat and pass away, leaving no trace of a metallic nature behind, it was no wonder that the miners of lead and silver ores considered it an much waste, and acted accordingly;
hence it was used for road making and the residue always passed to the waste dumps. Today these shining metallic particles are worth $37 a ton, and smelters cannot buy sufficient tonnage to supply the great and ever-increasing demand for this metal. Quite a lot of the various ores have been brought to this city and are now on exhibition. Among this lot is quite a quantity of excellent silver ore, but the vein from which this is supposed to have come has not yet been discovered and considerable hope is entertained by the numerous prospectors that they will run across it while digging for other minerals.

season opened June 1. The Park is increasing in popularity yearly and it is becoming quite the thing for special parties to visit it. Then, too, people stay there longer. Although the regular tourist trip provides for 5 1/2 days in the park, any one can remain longer without any extra charge for transportation. Many cannot afford to spend more time than 5 1/2 days there so the regular schedule is based on that fact.

The hotels are all modern in appointment, electric lighted and steam heated and the trip through this Wonderland is the finest coaching trip to be found in the country.

The government is spending large amounts of money in perfecting the road system. New roads, new steel bridges, improving old roads, is the order of things.

GRAUSTARK

... By ...

GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Copyright, 1901, by Herbert B. Stone

After this very significant act the guard's face cleared, and he deposited he shuddered apprehensively.

"A fitting night!" he muttered as he plunged into the driving rain, forcing his way across the courtyard toward the main gate. The little light in the gatekeeper's window was his guide, so, blinded by the torrents, blown by the winds, he soon found himself before the final barrier. Peering through the window, he saw the keeper dozing in his chair. By the light from within he selected from the bunch of keys he carried one that had a white string knotted in its ring. This was the key that was to open the big gate in case no one challenged him. In any other case he was to give the countersign, "Daughess," and trust fortune to pass him through without question.

Lucky was with him, and, dodging the great lock, he softly inserted and turned the key. The wind blew the heavy gate open violently, and it required all of his strength to keep it from banging against the wall beyond. The most difficult task that he had encountered grew from his efforts to close the gate against the blast. He was about to give up in despair when a hand was laid on his shoulder and some one hissed in his startled ear:

"Sil! Not a word!"

His legs almost went from under his body, so great was the shock and the fear. Two strong hands joined his own in the effort to pull the door into position, and he knew at once that they belonged to the man who was to meet him on the corner at the right of the prison wall. He undoubtedly had tired of the delay and, feeling secure in the darkness of the storm, had come to meet his charge, the escaping prisoner. Their united efforts brought about the desired result, and together they left the prison behind, striking out against the storm to all its fury.

"You are late," called the stranger in his ear.

"Not too late, am I?" he cried back, clutching the other's arm.

"No, but we must hasten."

"Captain Quinnox, is it you?"

"Have a care! The storm has ears and can hear noises," cautioned the other. As rapidly as possible they made their way along the black street, almost a river with its sheet of water. Lorry had lost his bearings and knew not whether he went, trusting to the guidance of his struggling companion. There seemed to be no end to their journey, and he was growing weak beneath the exertion and the excitement.

"How far do we go?" he cried at last.

"But a few rods. The carriage is at the next corner."

"Where is the carriage to take me?" he demanded.

"I am not at liberty to say."

"Am I to see her before I go?"

"That is something I cannot answer, sir. My instructions are to place you in the carriage and ride beside the driver until our destination is reached."

"Is it the castle?" cried the other joyously.

"It is not the castle," was the disappointing answer.

At that moment they came upon a great dark bulk and heard the stamping of horses' hoofs close at hand. It was so dark they could scarcely discern the shape of the carriage, although they could touch its side with their hands.

A soldier stood in the shelter of the vehicle and opened the door for the Americans.

"Hurry! Get in!" exclaimed Quinnox.

"I wish to know if this is liable to get her into trouble," demanded Lorry, pushing with one foot on the steps.

"Get in!" commanded the soldier who was holding the door, pushing him forward unhesitatingly. He floundered into the carriage, where all was dry and clean. In his hand he still carried the keys and the lantern, the slide of which he had closed before leaving the prison yard. He could not see, but he knew that the trappings of the vehicle were superior. Outside he heard the soldier, who was preparing to enter, say:

"This carriage travels on most urgent business for her royal highness, captain. It is not to be stopped."

A moment later he was inside and the door slammed. The carriage rocked as Quinnox swung up beside the driver.

"You may as well be comfortable," said Lorry's companion as he sat rigid and restless. "We have a long and rough ride before us."

this part of the world? "I haven't seen a flask tonight."

"It is very rare," came the brief reply.

"Devilish uncommunicative," thought Lorry. After a moment he asked:

"How far do we travel tonight?"

"A number of miles."

"Then I'm going to take off this wet coat. It weighs a ton. Won't you remove yours?" He jerked off the big rain coat and threw it across to the opposite seat, with the keys and the lantern. There was a moment's hesitation on the part of his companion, and then a second wet coat followed the first. Their rain helmets were also tossed aside. "Makes a fellow feel more comfortable."

After this there was a longer silence than at any time before. The soldier drew himself into the corner of the seat, an action which repelled further discussion. It seemed to Lorry, so he leaned back in the opposite corner and allowed his mind to wander far from the interior of that black, stuffy carriage. Where was he going? When was he to leave Graustark? Was he to see her soon?

Soon the carriage left the smooth streets of Milwaukee, and he could tell by the jolting and creaking that they were in the country, racing over a rough, rocky road. It reminded him of an overland trip he had taken in West Virginia some months before, with the fairest girl in all the world as his companion. Now he was riding in her carriage, but with a surly, untalkative soldier of the guard. The more he allowed his thoughts to revel in the American ride and his delights the more uncontrollable became his desire to see the one who had withheld from him in "Light Horse" Jerry's coach.

"I wish to know how soon I am to see your mistress," he exclaimed impulsively, sitting up and striking his companion's arm by way of emphasis.

To his surprise, the hand was dashed away, and he distinctly heard the soldier gasp, "I beg your pardon!" he cried, fearing that he had given pain with his eager strength.

"You startled me. I was half asleep," stammered the other apologetically.

"When do you mean by my mistress?"

"Her royal highness, of course," said Lorry impatiently.

"I cannot say when you are to see the princess," said his companion after waiting so long that Lorry felt like kicking him.

"Well, see here, my friend, do you know why I agreed to leave that place back there? I said I wouldn't go away from Graustark until I had seen her. If you fellows are splitting me away—kidding me, as it were—I want to tell you I won't have it that way. I must know right now where we are going in this awful storm!"

"I have orders to tell you nothing," said the soldier stanchly.

"Orders, eh? From whom?"

"That is my affair, sir!"

"I guess I'm about as much interested in this affair as anybody, and I insist on knowing our destination. I jumped into this thing blindly, but I'm going to see my way out of it before we go much farther. Where are we going?"

"You—you will learn that soon enough," insisted the other.

"Am I to see her soon? That's what I want to know."

"You must not insist!" cried the soldier. "Why are you so anxious to see her?" he asked suddenly.

"Don't be so damned inquisitive," said Greenfield angrily, impatiently. "I tell you where we are going or I'll put a bullet into you!" Drawing his revolver, he leaned over, pressed the guard by the shoulder and placed the muzzle against his breast.

"For God's sake, be quiet! You would kill me for obeying orders! I am serving one you love. Are you mad? I shall scream if you keep pressing that horrid thing against my side!" Lorry felt him tremble and was at once filled with compunction. How could he expect a loyal fellow to disobey orders? "I beg your pardon a thousand times," he cried, jangling the pistol into his pocket. "You are a brave gentleman, and I am a fool. Take me where you will. I'll go like a lamb. You'll admit, however, that it is exasperating to be going in the dark like this."

Correct Summer Clothing The Kind That Won't Lose Shape

Did you ever notice how quick thin clothing loses its shape? It's because it is not made right. We overcome that fault in our Correct Summer Clothing—we've had it made a new way. The coats have a full shoulder, with hair-cloth stiffening down the front, that keeps them from breaking or losing shape. The pants have cuff bottoms, concealed buttons and felt straps, the cloth is thoroughly shrunk which overcomes sagging at the knee. There's no clothing like it for fit and style in Paducah. FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

He Has No Right to Surrender Jurisdiction.

Must Try Railroad Cases Himself, According to Late Court of Appeals Decision.

DAWSON CASES ALL DISMISSED

The court of appeals has just decided an important appeal case which will have quite a bearing on many cases in local courts.

Copies of the opinion were received here today. Last Labor Day a number of plonickers were struck by an Illinois Central train and several were killed.

Suit was instituted in the state court here by Attorneys Taylor, Gilbert and Lucas against the railroad company for many thousand dollars damages, and when the cases came up before Judge Hnsbands the railroad attorneys Messrs. Wheeler and Hughes, moved that they be transferred to the federal court for trial.

Judge Hnsbands sustained the motion, to which the plaintiffs and their attorneys objected and took an appeal. The cases were accordingly transferred to the federal court, and when they came up the plaintiff's attorneys moved that they be remanded to the state court, but Judge Evans assumed jurisdiction and overruled the motion.

The plaintiffs then dismissed the suits without prejudice, intending to bring new suits in circuit court, but the railroad attorneys, in answering the appeal, then claimed that as the cases had been dismissed in federal court after the latter had taken jurisdiction they had also been dismissed in the state court at the same time, and that there were then pending no suits, and consequently no appeal, which the court of appeals sustains. The attorneys for the plaintiffs will now have to bring new suits here.

The most important feature of the new decision, however, according to attorneys, is that Judge Hnsbands should have tried the cases himself at the start and not transferred them to the federal court when a motion to do so was made. That the circuit judge has no right to surrender his jurisdiction, and must try such cases. Should the opinion have the effect claimed it will keep most of the railroad damage suits out of federal court, which court the railroad companies prefer because as a rule they get a more unprejudiced verdict.

BODY FOUND

Brakeman Johnson Dies From Scalds.

Body Dug From Debris Last Night and Brought Here for Burial.

The body of Ed Johnson, colored, the brakeman who was missing yesterday from the crew of the two wrecked freight trains at Dawson, was found last night about 9 o'clock and brought to the city this morning for burial. He did not meet death from crush but from scalds, the hot water and steam from the engine killing him. He was on the tank of the 1164 or the No. 22 when the crash came and was covered by debris of the wreck when found. He is the only victim of the wreck.

Grammon, the fireman who had a shoulder dislocated and who was otherwise injured, is about the same at Dawson where he is under the care of railroad physicians. His injuries are serious and he is in a bad condition it is reported.

A GOOD ROOTER GONE.

Mr. W. H. Pinkney, the drug drummer, went to Hopkinsville this morning on business and will probably not return here before August 15. With his departure Paducah will feel the keen loss of one of the strongest rooters and will hat his return with much delight. Yesterday Mr. Pinkney gave a "Paducah baseball cry," and it was one of the best ever heard, hearing many college cries. He was offered free transportation to Cairo Sunday by the agent of the City of St. Louis excursion boat, a person who had never seen him before, but who recognized his abilities as a rooter.

Theatrical Notes.

The Seward show, at The Casino last night presented "A Fatal Wedding" to a good sized house. Minnie Seward was seen as the brave, warm hearted little Ray, fighting to save her old nncle from disgrace. She acted her part with a fervor and naturalness that soon made her a warm favorite. Fred Seward, in the character of the square gambler who never went back on a friend, easily bore off his share of the honors. The play "A Fatal Wedding" is far superior to those expected by a summer popular priced show.

Between the acts there were no waits, but instead a number of bright specialties which were well received. These included two comely songs by Arthur Blackaller, Eva Johnson, who has a very sweet voice, also came in for a hearty reception, but the illustrated songs by Will Santechi were the great hit of the evening. No finer pictures have ever been seen here, the light was perfect and the coloring beautiful. The company is much better than one expects to see at a summer park and is far ahead of several of the regular season companies that play at the Kentucky. "A Fatal Wedding" will be repeated tonight for the last time.

Manager James E. English, of the Casino, has gone to West Baden for a sojourn of two weeks or more.

Just for once won't you try a pair of shoes that are not made from guesswork measurements of what your foot ought to be, but from "X-ray" photographs of what women's feet really are?

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe is exactly shaped to the bones, muscles, and ligaments of the foot, as they are plainly revealed by "X-ray" photograph. This is the explanation of why you hear so much talk on all sides about the wonderful "Fit of a Dorothy Dodd." The shoe deserves its popular nickname of "an arrangement in comfort." But all this is of no help to you unless you own a pair. On the day you buy them you will learn a new lesson in Foot Comfort.

After that, no one can sell you any other shoe but a "Dorothy Dodd."
